About Artsy Mats

Artsy began in 2016 when we noticed a gap in the market for doormats with a difference. Our team thought about how we could make something simple become fun and exciting, and that's when the brilliant idea of 'Artsy Doormats' was created. We then worked on creating an extensive collection of unique designs that would enhance doorways around the world, we hand-spray the designs onto natural coir mats and dispatch them to retail and trade.

Over the years, we have expanded our collections and have since launched vinyl mats, stone bath mats and noodle outdoor doormats. Each of our mat types has a variety of benefits and we always have sustainability in mind; in 2023 our aim is for all Artsy products to be 100% natural or recycled and packaging to be made from recycled materials.

What makes Artsy Mats different?

A doormat is one of the first things you see when you arrive home, this is one of many reasons we believe that a mat should be much more than a piece of plain coir. Our collections offer a mat for every person and individual style, whether you're looking for a stylish design or a mat to make your visitors laugh.

As well as this, we offer personalisation options that allow you to make your mat your own, this works as a great gift option. Our team is based at our Lancashire HQ.

william morris

We are very excited to have a curated and concise collection of designs from one of Britain's greatest textile designers and artists, William Morris. These doormats make the perfect addition to any home, adding a classical, romantic touch from the British Art & Crafts movement.

text

Our text-based designs are some of our most popular designs, we literally have a doormat for every season! We also have ambigram designs, meaning your mat is readable when your guests enter and leave your humble abode. We have mats inspired by songs, books and films but if pop culture doesn't tickle your fancy; there is a selection of designs for those of you who enjoy a tipple.
